Spring 2021

Welcome to the Neighborhood

Would it surprise you that within just a quarter square mile, the Town of Kensington is home to over 250 businesses? That number holds steady even with the current challenges, according Tracey Furman, Mayor of Kensington since 2016.

Town businesses serve a wide surrounding area — the neighborhoods of the Kensington zip code, and beyond to Chevy Chase, Garrett Park, North Bethesda, parts of Wheaton, Silver Spring and Forest Glen.

The Town's beautiful historic setting is convenient and walkable. Being able to go places without needing a ride is great for kids and their parents. Residents appreciate the many one-of-a-kind businesses and the growing variety of cuisines.

Businesses have responded with creativity and resilience to the quarantine. Those with an online presence had a head start. Carryout service allows restaurants to stay in business. The owners of some of the businesses that closed were already considering making a change well before the pandemic, is Mayor Furman's understanding.

In this newsletter we spotlight some wonderful new arrivals.

Legendary Fitness

10513 Metropolitan Ave, Kensington MD 20895

Legendary Fitness opened on Metropolitan Avenue in December and took off. The personal training studio offers in-home, virtual, and in-studio training for individuals of all ages who want to live a stronger and healthier life.

Trainers Peri Evanoff and Sherri Bale tailor each workout program to your body, goals, and lifestyle. "Exercise strengthens both muscle and bone, so important for healthy aging, but that doesn't require going 'exercise crazy'," says Sherri Bale.

Peri Evanoff, a former competitive swimmer, is a personal trainer and nutrition coach with 20 years of experience. She specializes in women's strength, prenatal and postnatal fitness, senior fitness, corrective exercise, and power lifting.

Sherri Bale, retired from the genetic testing company she started, is a powerlifter, black belt in judo, and personal fitness trainer. A grandmother, she is especially interested in senior fitness and in training women of all ages.

They welcome clients who may feel uncomfortable working out in a large gym that caters to younger adults and the already fit. Their clients typically are over 45, and many are in their 60s, 70s and up.

Sessions are by appointment only.

Kensington Market

4215 Howard Ave, Kensington, MD 20895

The word is out about the amazing fresh seafood at Kensington Market! Bright green and white yard signs and social media posts draw people to its unexpected location on Howard Avenue, close to the turn to meet Knowles Avenue.

Got Kids? Get PEP!

www.PEPparent.org

Congratulations to the Parent Encouragement Program (PEP) on forty years of parenting education!

The Kensington nonprofit PEP offers award winning parenting education programs ranging from one hour to four weeks. It is the effective, practical support that parents look for, especially during challenging times.

*Educating parents.
Enriching families.*

Parents learn the time-tested, practical strategies of positive parenting to connect with their kids and build strong, cooperative family relationships from the start, through the teenage years and beyond.

Since last March the number of parents participating online has tripled to nearly 9,000. During the coronavirus quarantine all programming is online. Learning from home makes it easy for parents to participate together.

For more information about PEP's free and low-cost parenting programs — 4-week online master classes, live webinars, on-demand videos on dozens of common parenting challenges, and the free Critical Topics in Parenting series — visit www.PEPparent.org.

Congratulations! The Kensington Volunteer Fire Department held the 4th annual Chili Cook-Off to raise funds for a new ambulance at Station 5. Kensington Market sponsored this year's "drive-thru edition."

The seafood is fresh every day, never frozen, supplied by Kensington Market Wholesale right next door. Crab cakes are the most popular item, says Pedro Munoz, the Market's buyer. The market supplies Frankly Pizza with clams, so clam pizza could come back on the menu.

Hours are Tuesday through Saturday: 10 a.m. — 7 p.m. Parking spaces are right in front. Online ordering for curbside pick-up is open at www.kensingtonmdmarket.com. contact: 301-328-1248 email: hello@kensingtonmdmarket.com.
